Concerning Honorifics

At Go! Comi, we do our best to ensure that our translations read seamlessly in English while respecting the original Japanese language and culture. To this end, the original honorifics (the suffixes found at the end of characters' names) remain intact. In Japan, where politeness and formality are more integrated into every aspect of the language, honorifics give a better understanding of character relationships. They can be used to indicate both respect and affection. Whether a person addresses someone by first name or last name also indicates how close their relationship is.

Here are some of the honorifics you might encounter in reading this book:

-san: This is the most common and neutral of honorifics. The polite way to address someone you're not on close terms with is to use "-san." It's kind of like Mr. or Ms., except you can use "-san" with first names as easily as family names.

-chan: Used for friendly familiarity, mostly applied towards young girls. "-chan" also carries a connotation of cuteness with it, so it is frequently used with nicknames towards both boys and girls (such as "Na-chan" for "Natsu").

-kun: Like "-chan," it's an informal suffix for friends and classmates, only "-kun" is usually associated with boys. It can also be used in a professional environment by someone addressing a subordinate.

-sama: indicates a great deal of respect or admiration.

Sempai: in school, "sempai" is used to refer to an upperclassman or club leader. It can also be used in the workplace by a new employee to address a mentor or staff member with seniority.

Sensei: Teachers, doctors, writers or any master of a trade are referred to as "sensei." When addressing a manga creator, the polite thing to do is attach "-sensei" to the manga-ka's name (as in Yagami-sensei).

Onii: This is the more casual term for an older brother. Usually you'll see it with an honorific attached, such as "onii-chan."

Onee: The casual term for older sister, it's used like "onii" with honorifics.

[blank]: Not using an honorific when addressing someone indicates that the speaker has permission to speak intimately with the other person. This relationship is usually reserved for close friends and family.

#5 THE TRUTH BEHIND SHOTA

Young girl and by hers.
Will in with as at first and revels
him.

MOMOKO モモコ

A young boy learning to channel his karate skills
into a repair
blow technique,
which he uses
to whack broken things into working order.

CHILD SHOTA ショータ(子供時代)

SHOTA ショータ

Asuka's karate instructor.
Asuka's father. He got Shota into the martial arts.

INSTRUCTOR 師範

A former karate
classmate of Shota's.
She's sworn revenge on Shota for killing her father, their instructor.

ASUKA アスカ

Self-proclaimed
trickster.
He doesn't have much to say, except about money.

KANJI カンジ

Character & Story

In this, the "Malfunctioning Era," geomagnetic abnormalities cause machines to malfunction, seriously affecting the quality of life. When Shota was a child learning karate, he witnessed a broken television repaired with a firm whack. This inspired him to develop his "Repair Blow" which he can use to fix broken-down machinery with a few well-placed attacks. The eruption of Mt. Fuji ends Shota's mountain-top training, and he decides that he has mastered his technique enough to continue his studies in the city.

Though his efforts show little success, his skills are enough to impress Momoko, who falls in love with him at first sight. Later, the smooth-talking, enterprising Kanji can see the business potential of Shota's abilities. They join him on his journey.

Soon after, a city-to-city bus that Momoko was riding breaks down, sending it dangerously out of control. Shota's Repair Blow miraculously stops the bus, saving Momoko and its passengers. Celebrations are cut short when Asuka appears, challenging Shota to a fight for the honor of her slain father!

HE MUST HAVE HAD A REASON, EVEN IF SOMEONE LIKE YOU COULDN'T UNDERSTAND!! I KNOW IT!!

SHOTA'S INNOCENT!

WAS IT THE REPAIR BLOW HE USED?

NO!

NOT A SPACE INVADER, A ROBOT!! FROM ANOTHER DIMENSION...

LIKE MAYBE THE INSTRUCTOR WAS ACTUALLY AN EVIL SPACE INVADER ONLY POSING

AS YOUR FATHER AND SHOTA HAD TO FIGHT HIM TO SAVE THE WORLD...

RIGHT, SHOTA?

YOU WERE TRYING TO SAVE YOUR INSTRUCTOR.

HUH?

#6 PITFALL

I NEED TO FIND THE RIGHT PLACE FOR IT.

WE'RE HERE SO I CAN FIX THE EARTH.

THE POINT I NEED MUST BE AROUND THERE.

THE EARTH'S DAMAGE IS IN ITS CORE.

INSIDE THE BUS...

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT?

OR IS THERE A SOMB IN IT THAT'LL SLOW DOWN?

WHAT ARE YOU, SOME KIND OF WIND-UP TOY THAT HAS TO KEEP MOVING?!

SO WHAT? WHY DO YOU NEED TO?!

...THERE'S NO ROOM TO RUN.

IT'S NOT JUST TRAINING.

IT'S DANGEROUS AROUND HERE. WE DON'T HAVE TIME FOR YOUR ENDURANCE TRAINING.

LISTEN UP SHOTA.

I'M IN A HURRY TO GET TO TOWN SO WE CAN MAKE SOME MONEY OFF THOSE ENTALIST CLANS!

TRANSLATOR'S NOTES

Pg. 57 – “down the hole!!”

A meaningless catchphrase of the Pitfall Enthusiast Clan, used to end sentences rather like the Canadian use of “eh?”, or Monty Python’s “Y’know what I mean?”

Pg. 58 – “My name’s Orinosuke.”

His name is derived from the word “oriru” which means “to go down” or “descend” and “suke” is a common ending for a guy’s name.

Pg. 176 – “pinched by a fox”

A Japanese colloquialism meaning to be befuddled, confused or at a loss about what to do.

Pg. 176 – Yukie Nakama

A beautiful Japanese actress and model.

Pg. 177 – Yasutaka Tsutsui

A Japanese novelist famed for his dark humor.

Pg. 177 – “Moe-tan!”

The suffix “-tan” is a cute version of “-chan”, and Moe is a cute little girl.
